Hi! No music. No talking. Just work. If you are taking your 2009 Acer Aspire 6930g, you will notice that the power button is a bit different from the previous models. It is a small, round button with a power symbol on it. When you press it, the power light will turn on and the fan will start. However, the fan will stop after 2 seconds. This is a bit unusual for a laptop. Usually, the fan will continue to run for a few minutes after the laptop is powered on. This is because the fan is designed to cool the laptop down after it has been powered on. In this case, the fan is not working properly. It is not running for the full 2 seconds. This is a problem that needs to be fixed. The fan is a critical component of the laptop. It is responsible for keeping the laptop cool. If the fan is not working, the laptop will overheat and may be damaged. Please contact Acer support if you are experiencing this issue. They will be able to help you troubleshoot the problem and provide you with a replacement fan if necessary. Thank you for your feedback. We appreciate your input and will use it to improve our products and services. Welcome to the Acer community!
